

The i-woman community is delighted to share that the generous £600 funding from Felixstowe Town Hall was thoughtfully invested in marketing materials to significantly boost the platform's visibility and engagement. A professionally designed standup banner now proudly represents i-Woman at various events, making a strong first impression. In addition vibrant leaflets were produced and distributed strategically within the local area, effectively communicating our mission and attracting new members to join our inspiring community.

Beyond print materials, a portion of the funding will be supporting future networking events across Felixstowe. These gatherings have provided invaluable opportunities to connect with like-minded individuals, partners, and potential collaborators.
